Hello. Some lessons have no video link to go with them this week and children will need protractors for some of the lessons. I will make some available in school if you need them but please could you return them when we have finished this block.

I will be in school on Wednesday, Thursday and Fridays now if any of you need to contact me. Hope you are all ok.

Art.

When I was in school on Wednesday me and the children did some work on portraits. We took a picture of ourselves then cut it in half vertically. They then stuck one half down on paper and drew the other half and created some really good observational drawings. Have a look on the school webpage to see some pictures of what they did then have a go. (If you have no printer just try drawing a picture of yourself by looking in the mirror but make sure you are looking really closely).

History

Children can design an Anglo Saxon brooch of their own. These are some ideas but there are more on the internet. Can they think about making their design symmetrical, intricate and what patterns and colours it will have. Will they include jewels in their design?
